Please therefore send payment within 30 days, as Medstrom reserves the right to charge interest at the rate of 8% per annum on any overdue invoices. Invoices that are not challenged within fourteen days of the invoice date, remain due 30 days from their original invoice date.

Any prices quoted exclude VAT and are valid for 30 days from the date on this document. Where a quotation is for capital purchase, these products shall be delivered within 45 days, unless a different timescale has been pre-agreed. Title shall pass to the customer as soon as Medstrom has received payment for the products in full.

Medstrom service personnel expect to be granted the right to enter customer premises during reasonable times in order to provide service to equipment under a warranty or maintenance contract. Equipment maintenance, repair and/or call-outs may be subject to additional charge for items that are not covered under a warranty or maintenance contract, or where reasonable access has been refused.

Medstrom works with multiple manufacturers to provide true clinical choice by providing access to a range of products that would normally be restricted with the limited range of a single manufacturer. Manufacturers of Medstrom-supplied products continually look to develop and improve their products and this is usually subject to change without notice. Medstrom cannot therefore make any commitment to update or keep current, the information provided by the manufacturers in the various user and service manuals and quick user guides. All manufacturers typically reserve the right to make changes without notice in design, specification, and models.
